“Performance Anxiety” How to Create a Fortune in Non-Performing Notes

What If...

You could quickly create a balance sheet with a large equity and zero debt secured by desirable, high quality, single family homes and you could create consistent double digit and long term note investment returns for income today.

You could take advantage of the huge aberration in today’s market (lowest interest rates in history) to create a rock solid, low maintenance retirement nest egg and income source that is almost guaranteed.

You could hear the combined wisdom of 25 years of study of the masters of real estate and note investing by an experienced, passionate, practitioner who does this stuff everyday.
